Canadian Young Scientist Journal joins NRC Research Press

Wed, 2013-09-11 17:28 -- Reni Barlow

The screenshot shows the homepage of the Canadian Young Scientist Journal. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the journal's logo and name in both English and French: "CANADIAN YOUNG SCIENTIST JOURNAL" and "REVUE CANADIENNE DES JEUNES SCIENTIFQUES". Below the navigation bar, there is a main content area. On the left, there is a sidebar with a "Home" button and a "News" section. The main content area features a large article titled "Publish or Perish?" with a photo of several young scientists. To the right of this article, there is a "News" section with a list of recent news items. The page is designed with a clean, professional layout, using a mix of blue and white colors.

JOURNAL SPONSORS

The Canadian Young Scientist Journal is a unique scholarly publication that gives high school and undergraduate students their first opportunity to be published in an academic journal.

e-First

e-First Articles

In anticipation of the upcoming semi-annual issue, we are pleased to present our readers with e-First articles, which are articles that have been peer-reviewed and released online ahead of the print issue. Their early release online guarantees prompt communication of the ideas and maintains the priority of the results.
